OUTSIDERS MAKE BIG WINNINGS IN PANICKY MARKET.

Frenzy of Leiter Deal Surpassed by Excitement on Board and Rapid Fluctuation of Prices-Traders Say U. S. and Canada Will Have No Wheat to Sell. CHICAGO, May 13.-Wheat sold to-day with the dollar sign before it for the first time since the black rust scare of 1904.

While the price was 18 cents under the top of three years ago, the market presented the most panicky appearance ever seen here. Even the frenzy of the Leiter deal was uation and general excitement. The high price for the day was $1.03, compared with $1.24 reached in the black rust year, $1.85 in the Leiter deal of 1898, "old Hutch's" deal in 1888 and $2.95 in 1867 surpassed in the wideness of price fluc-

After a panicky upward rush of from 514 to 8 cents the market was checked by a heavy load of profit taking sales which sent prices back beyond the half way mark. Big general buying continued, however, and the market would not down.

A cause contributing to the advance is the fact that Providence has picked out this season for a late spring in Manitoba, where thousands of acres which ought to be seeded down and under way are still rockbound with frost. As if to make the bull argument even more con-vincing, the reports from Germany, Austria and Russia all point to a greatly becreased acreage.

"It is safe to say that the United States and Canada will be fortunate if they have enough wheat for bread and seed. They cannot be counted on to furnish much, f any, wheat for export," said William H. Bartlett of Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington after trading hours to-day. In this view he was supported by others equally promi-nent in the market.

The general opinion expressed was that presented a veritable feast of gain for the outsiders and that it was the regu who had to be up and doing to keep track of their trades.

A. J. Lichtstern, one of the big traders who has been credited with large winnings for the last fortnight, is reported to have been short for 5,000,000 bushels.

Other big fellows are said to have found themselves in a similar fix. They were victims of a sudden rush of the speculative public toward the wheat market, drawn by the pessimistic tone of the acreage reports issued by Uncle Sam and the damage caused by the green bug in the Southwest.

caused by the green bug in the Southwest.

It was generally felt, however, at the close of the day that the price had gone skyward as far as it would for several days. In the offices of the commission houses where the excited lambs gathered to seen the blackboards flore were rought tolk. scan the blackboards there was much talk of "dollar July wheat," but this, say the knowing ones, can hardly be realized until the facts regarding the damage to the crop Decomes clearer.

One of the curious things of the day's developments was the strength shown by the other grains. Corn went up conspicu-cusly, while barley made a jump of 2 cents over Saturday's price of 82 cents and touched the highest mark of the last twenty

The accitement sent flour up sharply best Minneapolis lists and Minneapolis lists selling at $5.35 barrel, or 50 cents above the price a week ago. This means something, for there is a beavy foreign demand reported from Japan

FIERCE SPECULATION HERE.

Orders to Buy Wheat Come With a Rush From the Interior An outburst of speculation in wheat that was both great in volume and more exciting than since the collapse of Joe Leiter's corner in 1897 carried all the options in the New York market three to five cents above the dollar yesterday. There was recorded one high point of the day gains ranging from 4% to more than 5 cents over Saturday's close. There was some reaction from the high figures, but the closing in New York showed these high prices and net gains: July, 10234; gain, 434. September, 10314; gain, 434. December, 10514; gain, 434.

Yesterday's prices were the highest since the winter of 1904-05, when wheat touched $1.24 a bushel. At no time since then has there been dollar wheat, and the advance was the more notable because cumulative. At the extreme high points of the day it showed in this market a gain of 8 to cents a bushel since Thursday and in the Chicago market a gain of 10 to 11 cents. Long before 10:30, the time of the New York opening, there had gathered on the floor of the Produce Exchange a larger crowd of brokers than has traded there in years. Most of them had large numbers of buying orders accumulated over the week end, and some trading on the curb, at advances of 11/2 to 2 cents a bushel, indicated that execution of orders at the opening would be possible only at a considerable advance. Opening sales were at prices ranging from a fraction to more than 2 cents apart.

The May option, which closed at 961/2 Saturday, showed the big bulge of 31/2 cents at the start and advanced almost immediately to 1021/2. July, which closed at 9814, started above 100 and shot up to 103 in the first fifteen minutes.

In the big grain houses it was said that there was some buying for Wall Street account, but the bulk of the orders came from the interior, all the interior cities and many of the villages contributing buying orders. There were also buying orders in considerable amounts from Liverpool, Antwerp, Bremen and Berlin. The mass of outside orders also affected the upward movement in an indirect way inducing covering by professionals who had gone short on Friday and Saturday in the belief that the bull movement had spend itself.

There were reports that the advance was also furthered by bull pools. One such report connected the Armours with a such report connected the Armours with a bull movement. Another had the Rock Island party on the long side of the wheat market as extensively as other reports two months ago had it on the short side of the stock market. Still another credited Charles M. Schwab with activity in wheat. As far as could be learned from the largest as far as could be learned from the largest grain houses in the Street there was little if any foundation for any of these reports. It is known that one of the largest local grain houses has been very active on the bull side for weeks. A representative of this house said the activity was due en-tirely to customers' orders.

One grop expert reported from Texas that the damage by insects had been greater than had been anywhere appreciated. another, just back from the Canadian Another, just back from the Canadian Northwest, wired that only 15 per cent of the spring wheat area had been seeded and that it would be impossible to seed more than 50 per cent. of a normal acreage. An expert employed by one of the largest grain houses in the street estimated a yield of winter wheat of about 380,000,000 bushels. It must be taken into consideration, he said, that there was carried over tion, he said, that there was carried over a surplus between 50,000,000 and 100,000,000; bushels from last year's crop. In regard to spring wheat, he was of the opinion that the decrease in acreage would not be as great as estimated, for the reason that farmers, under the stimulus of high prices, would seed as large an acreage as possible. would seed as large an acreage as possible.
At the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé offices it was said that advices from all the winter wheat section traversed by the road were that the grain has had abundant moisture and that its development is now only a matter of temperature. Warmer weather was reported from many places in Atchison territory, and it was concluded that the prospects were better

NO OFFER FOR BOSTON & MAINE. President Tuttle Says New Haven Interests

Have Taken No Action. Boston, May 13 .- President Lucius Tuttle of the Boston and Maine Railroad in an interview this morning said:

There is absolutely nothing for me to say respecting the rumors that have been current the last two weeks of the passing of control of the Boston and Maine to the New Haven or to interests closely allied with that road. holders of the Boston and Maine at large or to the board of directors as a body.

What may have been done in individual cases neither you nor I know or can know unless the individuals choose to tell us. The New Haven, or persons who wish for a nion of the two systems, may have obtained the assent of individual stockholders to a deal involving an exchange of New Haven stock for Boston and Maine stock, but there is no actual knowledge of such action on my part.

The real control of the Boston and Maine lies with the great body of stockholders throughout New England and especially in Massachusetts, and it will be time enough to talk of the passing of control when these interests are asked to and do express their opinion on the matter.

As to the picturesque stories in this morn ing's papers which make New York a way station and then try to be logical with imagin ary trains running direct from the South or West under New York to Boston, and a tunnel to be built under Boston Harbor so that these same trains may continue on to the farthes confines of Northern New England and the Provinces without change, they are not worthy serious consideration at this time. Instead of making Boston a terminal in would be sidetracked absolutely if such tunnel proposition became a reality.

Henry M. Whitney would not specifically confirm the report that the practical control of the Boston and Maine is now in the hands of President Mellen and his friends in the New Haven road, but he did not deny it

His remarks indicated that personally but not as a director of the Boston and Maine, he was aware that certain large stockholders were intending to turn their Haven company.

Mr. Whitney's personal attitude toward the merger is friendly, for he said: the merger is friendly, for he said:

I see no disadvantage to the State in the deal. Mr. Mellen's policy is progressive, and securing the control of the B. & M. would develop the territory. Control of the road isn't sought for the purpose of shutting it up.

I am speaking of the situation only in general. It does not come before me and my associates in the board of directors of the Boston and Maine as such, and isn't likely to.

The change comes as something of a shock at first, but in general I think the New Haven policy is in line with that of the Commonwealth.

In the stock market to-day the proposed transfer of the Boston and Maine to the con-trol of the New York, New Haven and Harttrol of the New York, New Haven and Hartford was the principal topic of conversation. The quotations on these stocks seemed to indicate that the New Haven interests had got all the B. & M. stock they wanted. For a long time there has been a steady demand for B. & M., but that demand has now disappeared and it was sometimes difficult to get an offer for the stock. New Haven, on the contrary, looked as though it had touched bottom. It is said on excellent authority that before long the offer will be made to exchange New Haven share will be made to exchange New Haven share for share for B. & M.

STOCK EXCHANGE ELECTIONS. Fight in the Consolidated Over the Manag-

The New York Stock Exchange and the Consolidated Exchange elected officers yesterday. On the big exchange there was no opposition ticket and the regular ticket with R. H. Thomas as president was

At the Consolidated Exchange the were the "regular" nominations and the "independent" nominations. Both factions "independent" nominations. Both factions nominated O. C. Budd for president, C. H. Badeau and S. A. Luther for first and second vice-presidents, E. R. Grant for treasurer and V. Mott for chairman. The fight is over the managing board. On the regular ticket the commission houses had three out of the ten members and on the independent ticket they had no representatives.

Two independents, A. R. Allan and E. W. Van Vleck, were elected, and these men on the regular ticket: G. W. Beal, W. R. Bogert, W. R. Brown, Varona de Cordova, Fred Jagels, R. H. Reid, F. L. Salomon and W. L. S. Webster.

IRON AND STEEL

Spot 2 X Iron Active at $25.50 to $26 -Better Markets for Railroad Material. The marked revival in buying of rails and other forms of railroad material has apparently stimulated the markets for pig Iron, as the last hope of consumers who looked for a eduction in prices of domestic pig iron was based upon the belief that the recent lull in buying steel products for railroads meant that the crest of the unexampled boom in the steel markets was over. The week opened with a number of closures of important speci-fications for steel making, malleable and mixed numbers in foundry pig iron. Spot foundry iron is in unprecedented demand and is scarce the country over. Two local firms are in the British pig iron markets for requirenents that will insure regular weekly shipments until November. Standard foundry warrants closed at 62s. A local iron merchant now at Middlesbrough cables that the stocks in Connell's Stores are 365,000 tons, a reduction of almost one-half from the tonnages on hand a few months ago. For delivery at dock in this port No. 3 Middlesbrough is at $22.50@$23; No. 3 Scotch, $25. Northern No. 2 X at furnaces is at $25.50@$26, with Buffalo No. 2 at $23 for fourth quarter and eastern Pennsylvania at $23.50 for the same delivery at furnaces. Southern foundry No. 2 at Birming-ham, nominally at $19.50@$20 for fourth quarter. For the second quarter a number of Alabama district furnaces are selling on the basis of $22.50 for No. 2 foundry at Birmingham. Steel making irons are active and unchanged as to prices. In speaking of a new furnace in western New York, which is producing 600 tons of pig iron a day, a director of the corporation said: "Our new furnace requires 2,700 tons of material a day, ore, coke, limestone and other supplies. Add to this the 600 tons of metal shipped out, and it is seen that this furnace needs a daily freight service of 3,000 tons. This means 165 carloads of twenty tons each In all ways for providing materials for this stack and getting the finished product to the consumers the work of 3,000 men is required. This new blast furnace was built and set to work within five months, and is the seventh stack in our service."

In the domestic steel markets it is said that supplies of crude and semi-finished products from sources outside the largest associated interest are slightly better. The United States Steel Corporation is short of supplies for a number of its finishing mills. The few finishing mills that are slack are in that condition only because of the inadequacy of supplies of crude or semi-finished material.

Business in rails for deliveries during next year is good. A number of important speciwithin a few days. One of the ablest steel rail makers says: "The mills will be active rail makers says: "The mills will be active shortly in closing for heavy contracts for next year. Nobody of sense in the railroad busiless is giving any attention to the nonser that is spouted by a small group of railroad men of no practicaly engineering experience who have been attitudinizing of late about defective rails. The railroads get just the kind of rails they order. If any railroad man says he has been put in the wrong box in the matter of buying rails it is his own fault. It is all bosh to suppose that there are any bad rails on a well managed road. Now and then a few may get out of the mill, but it is easy work to keep them out of the tracks

COPPER, TIN AND LEAD.

Domestic Copper Markets Onlet and Firm

-Enlarging Markets for Brass Products. Lake, electrolytic and casting copper are inchanged as to prices and conditions in domestic markets. Several consuming interests who are sounding the market for lake state that producers are as firm in their views as at any time since the new year. Four important producers relate that advices from Germany are to the effect that heavy buying of American copper will condition June. A Cologne consuming interest which has contracts for 18,000 tons of marine and land cables is already in the market for a very heavy requirement of electrolytic for July and August. The sales of yesterday included 600,000 pounds of electrolytic for July shipment to Belgium at 25c. net at this port. Nothing better than 26c. for July lake is reported by consuming interests, at which price, in the local market, a sale of 200,000 pounds was closed for a Pittsburg consumer. Casting copper is in larger demand than supply for near by shipments, and is strong at 24% to 25%c. Enlarging markets for brass products in engineering lines of manufacture in which iron and steel are being displaced for composition castings are responsible, in part, for the steady increase in sales of casting copper. Makers of steam railroad and electric passenger cars are going back to the lavish use of brass trimmings as hand baggage holders, grilles, seat fittings, window trimming and platform rails. A car building corporation which is making 9,000 cars a month states that its consump-tion of brass for trimming cars during this year will go well above 2,000,000 pounds over the amount consumed last year. Other car builders state that the fashion is setting for much more brass trimmings than in previous years.
